#RecognizeALocalHero This week's nominations for the St Johns River 2 Sea Loop Alliance Recognize a Local Hero Project were for frontline healthcare workers. In the future we'll have a week specifically for nurses. There are so many and even though our program is just gaining momentum we had a number of nominations. Thanks everyone who nominated a hero - we'll try to award as many as we can and hope to keep the project rolling. It was a tough choice, but here's the final decision:

This week's award goes to Drs. Ratan (cardiologist) & Karuna Ahuja (pulmonologist), founders of the Florida Cardiopulmonary Center in Orange City. The Florida Cardiopulmonary Center in Orange City has been giving away groceries daily since last week and will continue through this week, to those who need help during this COVID crisis.

"Giving is not just about making a donation. It's about making a difference." That's our motto too and we hope to keep making a difference by recognizing our local heroes.

The Doctors will be featured on our website River2SeaLoop.Org and in our In The Loop Newsletter and will receive a $50 Gift Certificate from the local fabulous favorite Cress Restaurant.
